Vinification:

The wine is aged 100% in wooden barrels. Small proportions come from from the third occupancy of a single barrel, but mainly from up to 60-year-old double barrels.

Description:

The bouquet of the Rosengarten shows yellow pome fruit with floral facets. Thanks to its soft acidity and simultaneous minerality, it appears almost Burgundian. Great concentration and an enormously high extract ensure great ageing potential.

The old monopoly location Rosengarten is located near the Rhine, directly around the Spreitzer winery. The terroir of the soil, characterised by loam and shell limestone, illustrates the special nature of the site. The entire vineyard is surrounded by walls that act as heat reservoirs and thus positively influence the microclimate of the site.
